

PECOS CONFERENCE 2005

SYMPOSIUM 2:
NEW RESEARCH IN THE NORTHERN RIO GRANDE

Saturday, August 13th, 2005

Participants and Topics

Morning Session 9:30-11:00

Mike Bremer: Introduction

Pegi Jodry: Paleoindian and Archaic Connections between the San Luis and the Pajarito

Genevieve Head: Survey Around Petroglyph Hill-Galisteo Basin

Brad Vierra: Early Agriculture in the Northern Rio Grande

Alexander Kurota: Early Pueblo IV Farmers on La Bajada Mesa

Eileen Camilli: Pre-Columbian Agricultural Engineering in the Northern Rio Grande Region

Kurt Anschuetz: Settlement and Agricultural Production in the Tewa Basin

Cherie Scheick: Development to Coalition Transition in Santa Fe

11:00-12:00: Break for Business Meeting

12:00-1:30: Lunch

Afternoon Session 1:30-2:45

Mike Bremer and Anne Baldwin: Between Chaco and a Hard Place: Peripheral Development between the Rio Grande and the San Juan Basin

Jim Moore: San Juan or Rio Grande? The Ethnic Nature of the Late Developmental Period in the Northern Rio Grande

Jeff Boyer: In Search of Wendorf and Reed: Arguing for Provincialism in the Northern Rio Grande

Richard Chapman: Turn Back! Reflections on 1975-1979 Cochiti Reservoir Project:

Jeremy Kulisheck: Pueblo Population Change on the Jemez Plateau, A.D. 1250 to 1700, and the Effects of Spanish Conquest

Matt Liebmann and Bob Preucel: Keres-Jemez Settlement during the Pueblo Revolt Era

2:45-3:00: Break

3:00-4:30

Sunday Eiselt : Historic Micaceous Pottery Production and Raw Material Procurement in a Southwestern Horse Nomad Society: The Jicarilla of Northern New Mexico

Andy Darling: The Polyethnic Economies of Nineteenth Century Hispanic Communities in the Lower Chama Valley, New Mexico

Chris Wenker: Excavations at the Santa Fe Railyard

James Snead: Ancestral Origins and Places in the Northern Rio Grande

Dave Wilcox: The Rio Grande World and Its Oyster

Dick Ford: Research Perspective on Archaic, Regional Systems and the Early Historic Periods Through Rock Art, Ceramics and Cultural Exchange Pueblo

Linda Cordell: Northern Rio Grande Research from the Perspective of Tijeras